POSTMEN'S STRIKE ENDS; PAY INCREASE IS CONCEDED

Work Resumed Aster $2.50 Raise Is Offered

PROMISES GIVEN

Other Demands Will Be Given Consideration

Instructions received here yesterday from the Ministry of Communications at Peking to "meet the Shanghai postal strikers 'half way' on the question of wages, and to meet the leaders with 'sympathetic consideration' on the points of hours of service and enforced deposits in the postal savings bank" practically ended the strike of carriers, sorters, deliverymen and others, which has threatened for the last few days to tie up the handling of mails in Shanghai.

By fortunate co-incidence Mr. H. D. Summers, Postal Commissioner at Peking who has been in England on leave, arrived while the strike was developing and he co-operated actively yesterday with Mr. F. L. Smith, Deputy Postal Commissioner here, in adjusting the trouble after several conferences with the striking employes.

GRANT $2.50 INCREASE

Yesterday's developments in the controversy resulted in an increase of $2.50 per man being granted by the post office department. The first demand of the workers was for a $5 increase. The $2.50 advance in wages meets the "half way" instruction.

As concerns hours, a very "sympathetic consideration" will be given by the Postal Commissioner and his deputy. Whereas the carriers have worked 10 hours each day heretofore, and their first ultimatum called for an 8 hour working day, it is expected now that a 9 hour period of service will be the compromise. Concerning the enforced savings system, it is believed that an agreement will be reached as follows:

The carriers will agree to continue under the present system which provides for a monthly deduction of $1 per man, until the sum in the bank has reached a total of $60. It will be agreed then, according to present hopes that carriers may withdraw their savings and start again on the dollar-per-month basis. The workers however are expected to insist upon some guarantee that their savings shall not be confiscated for any cause whatsoever.

SORTERS RESUME WORK

Sorters, to the number of 250 or more, who joined in the strike yesterday, resumed work last evening on the strength of promises of satisfactory adjustment of the carriers' differences and the carriers themselves, 400 in number, are expected to resume work this morning at 7 o'clock pending the adjustment of the hours-of-service question and the matter of postal savings.

Mr. F. L. Smith, deputy postal commissioner was quite confident last night that the strike would be settled before business time this morning, and that the delivery on mails would resume its normal status. He explained that the department was quite sympathetically inclined toward the demands of the strikers, and expressed confidence that all differences between the department and the workers would be settled amicably today.

Chinese newspapers wired the Ministry of Communications a protest against the strike and demanded an early settlement because they are unable to get news from outlying points, and because the public just now is keenly interested in political affairs in the North and look to the papers for the news.

Pershing Wants Larger Army

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, April 25.—Addressing the Senate Military Committee, General Pershing supported the War Department's demand for a larger establishment than the 115,000 provided by the House of Representatives' military measure. He declared that if the United States had been prepared it could have prevented the late war.

The Secretary of War requests provision for an army of 150,000.

Astors May Be Aerial Commuters

Mr. & Mrs. Vincent Astor

THE Vincent Astors may become aerial commuters this Summer. An aerial limousine has been ordered by Mr. Astor for June delivery. The super flying boat, palatially fitted to accommodate five persons, will be used, it is understood, between New York and the Astor country place at Rhinebeck. The machine will have a speed of 135 miles per hour and will be capable of climbing 10,000 feet in twelve minutes, declare its manufacturers.

Mrs. Margaret Sanger Tells Of Hopes For Birth Control In Far Eastern Countries

Famous Advocate Wishes To Found Chapter And Start Magazine In Shanghai; Will Address Meetings Here

BY LARRY LEHRBAS

Mrs. Margaret Sanger, world-famous worker in the interests of birth control, has arrived in Shanghai from the North, after an extensive visit in Japan and will address meetings here before she leaves for Canton on Sunday.

Mrs. Sanger, who is stopping at the Astor House, has hopes of funding a Birth Control League branch and a birth control magazine in Shanghai. She told of her experiences thus far in the East and of her aspirations as regards Shanghai in the following interview with Mr. Larry Lehrbas of the Evening Star yesterday.

"Birth Control, as Lord Dawson, King George's physician, told the assembled churchmen of England, is here to stay and it makes no difference, whether the churches, the governments, or the individuals oppose it, it will have its sway. You might as well attempt to beat back the waves of the sea."

Mrs. Margaret Sanger, president of the American Birth Control League, and the most famous advocate in the world of a decreased birth rate, made that observation concerning her mission to the Orient to me yesterday shortly after her arrival from Japan, via Korea and Peking. Mrs. Sanger, who was at first barred from Japan by the Japanese Government, and then allowed to speak only at private meetings, is in Shanghai to speak before several groups of progressive Chinese desirous of learning about Birth Control, and declared that the outlook was so bright that she would establish a branch of the Birth Control League here.

"I have had a number of invitations to address various groups in Shanghai," Mrs. Sanger said, "and I am having a conference tomorrow afternoon with a number of Chinese editors, professors in the schools here and others of the intellectual type when the meetings will be arranged. In addition to forming a branch of the league here I have ultimate hopes of having a Birth Control magazine in Shanghai, and also in establishing a scientific clinic here that will give those who desire it the practical information necessary for the practice of birth control.

TO REACH FOREIGNERS

"No, I haven't been invited to address the American or British women's clubs as yet, but I would be very pleased to do so if they want me. Also the Y. W. C. A. As a matter of fact, however, I am more interested in reaching the Chinese than the foreign residents here. During my short stay I have already reached the conclusion that where in other countries reformers are continually asserting that capitalism or socialism or some other cause is holding civilisation

LLOYD GEORGE'S NON-AGGRESSION PACT SUBMITTED

Sure To Cause Row, Because It Involves Boundaries

(Reuter's Service)

Genoa, April 25.—Mr. Lloyd George this morning handed to M. Barthou the draft of the non-Aggression Pact, which was the subject of examination by British and French jurists for the whole of the day. No details are yet available but difficulties are likely to be encountered since, it is understood, questions of boundaries are involved.

Paris, April 26.—The possibility of the French occupation of the Ruhr valley is indicated in a semi-official statement, dealing with the measures, involving separate action, which France might take in the event of Germany's failure to carry out her obligations. The statement says that an agreement with the Allies in this matter, though desirable and is keenly desired by the French Government, is not indispensable, if the Reparation Commission, having given notice of Germany's default, should indicate that the moment for action had arrived, and points out that Germany's period of grace expires on May 31, after which if the Reparation Commission were not satisfied it would be able to propose to the French Govern-

INCOME TAX EXEMPTION SOUGHT BY AMERICANS

Protest Contends Those Living Abroad Do Not Have To Pay

SUITS ARE FILED

Method Being Followed In Mexico Also Can Apply To China

Of special importance to all American citizens living abroad is an effort that is being made by Americans residing in Mexico to obtain exemption from payment of income tax. This purpose is being undertaken largely by the American Chamber of Commerce of Mexico and, as a measure to gain support, this Mexican commercial body is seeking to enlist the co-operation of all Americans residing outside of the United States. The plan applies as well to Americans living in China as well as it does to Americans living in other foreign lands.

It is disclosed that several suits have been started to test the position that has been taken by Americans in Mexico, but for the general body of American taxpayers the method being followed in Mexico, briefly, consists of the filing of a protest against payment of the tax based upon the contention that the American Government under the American constitution is powerless to require payment of income tax from citizens deriving their incomes outside of the borders of the United States.

A textual copy of the protest has been supplied to the American Chamber of Commerce by the Mexican commercial organisation. This protest and the whole attempt to gain exemption from payment of the tax is being engineered for the American residents of Mexico by Mr. Charles Claflin Allen of St. Louis, Missouri, a prominent American attorney.

THE PROTEST

The wording of this protest, altered only to make it applicable to purposes of Americans in China is as follows:

"TO THE COLLECTOR OF INTERNAL REVENUE OF THE UNITED STATES AT BALTIMORE, MARYLAND.

"In filing herewith the form hereto attached, provided by the Statutes of the United States and the regulations thereunder for the returns as for income taxes, I do so not as a voluntary return of income for purposes of taxation, but only as evidence that I, as a citizen of the United States, resident in the Republic of China, protest the power of the United States through Income Tax laws passed by Congress in the years from 1913 to 1921, both inclusive (or otherwise) to assess, demand, collect, or enforce the collection by distraint, levy or otherwise of a tax on any of the income or property in said form of return contained, for the reason that said income and the property or other source from which it was derived were at all times outside the territorial jurisdiction of the United States of America, and within the territory of the Republic of China and are not within the protection or power of collection by the United States.

"I further protest the assessment and collection of income taxes based upon said return or otherwise, for the following reasons:

"I. That I am an American Citizen, but resident and domiciled outside of the United States of America to wit, a resident and domiciled in the Republic of China.

"II. That taxes on said income are 'direct taxes' insofar as they are, or are to be, assessed and imposed upon real estate or the rents or income of real estate, which is located in the Republic of China and outside of the territorial area and jurisdiction of the United States of America and are subject to the taxing power of a government foreign to the said United States, and are not subject to the taxing power of the said United States, and are not subject to the taxing power of the Congress under the Constitution of the United States.

"III. That taxes on said income are 'direct taxes' insofar as they are, or are to be, assessed and imposed on personal property, or the income of personal property, which is located in the Republic of China and is outside of the territorial area and jurisdiction of the United States of America, and are subject to the taxing power of a government foreign to the United States,

Lloyd George Finds Heights Of Fame Are Lonely

Lloyd George, wife and daughter. INTL.

POWER has its disadvantages, says Lloyd George, Premier of the British Empire during its stormy days of the past five years. "The higher you climb, the colder and lonelier it becomes," he told his friends while snatching a few days of peace and quiet at his home at Criccieth, Wales. "Also, it is necessary to deny yourself the comforts of peaceful home life."

The picture shows the Premier with his wife and daughter, Miss Megan Lloyd George, in a peaceful mood at his fireside. But the joy was short-lived, for the Premier was forced to attend the return in order to represent Great Britain at the Genoa Economic Conference.

Confucianism Concerns Itself With Present Issues

By Elsie McCormick

(This is the introductory article of a series on Chu'fu, the birthplace of Confucius.)

To go from the colorful extravagances of Taishan to the dignity of the Confucian capital at Chu'fu is to pass between two theological extremes. Taoism deifies everything; Confucianism speaks vaguely of Heaven, but shrugs its shoulders when questioned too closely about the exact geography of the next world. Taoism can tell you the maiden name of the devils who will torture you if you beat your donkeys or fail to give your wife a sufficient allowance for food. Its priests will show you just where the righteous dead live in rich caverns under the ground and play mah-jongg eternally with white jade dominoes. They will let you see the rocks where the fairies dwell, and they know the wells that touch the body of the great Earth Dragon. They know the cosmography of the unseen as well as a chorus man does Broadway, and they are completely untroubled by any such disturbing factors as scientific investigation or higher criticism.

Confucianists, on the other hand, leave tomorrow to tomorrow. They claim no knowledge of the ultimate fate of the universe; they give no explanation for the moving tides of the sea or the progress of the stars; they express no opinions on whether the departing soul goes to dark regions under the earth or climbs by long reincarnations to the unchanging light of Nirvana. They are satisfied with smoothing out the intricate relations of everyday life with several weighty volumes of ethics and with their belief in letting the next world take care of itself.

TRUE TO FOUNDER

Confucianism during the 2,500 years of its history has remained surprisingly true to the teachings of its founder. One would expect that in the course of such a long period among an imaginative people, the sublimated etiquette of Confucius would have suffered the introduction of many new gods and of a mass of theology and legend. This is what happened to the philosophic teachings of Buddha and Lao-tze, whose ideas have been so changed that their original followers would hardly recognise them.

Confucianism has even succeeded in resisting the temptation to endow its leader with a miraculous origin and to make him the performer of supernatural acts. To be sure, the old men played on their jade flutes in Heaven on the day that he was born, and a dragon was seen curled in the clouds over his home. But his life was no more than that of a mortal with human limitations, nor did his followers hesitate to record bits of biography that were hardly flattering. The rigidity with which Confucianists have held to the original form of their cult and the success they had in preventing it from being corrupted is almost unparalleled in the [illegible] religious history.

CHU'FU RAILWAY

Chu'fu, the birthplace of Confucius and the site of his largest temple, is a journey of several li from the Pukow-Tientsin Railroad. Originally it was planned to run the line through the town itself, but the father of the present Duke claimed that the graves of the whole Confucian clan would be disturbed and insisted that the station be placed at a considerable distance from the sacred burial place. It is said that he lived to regret his lack of progress. At any rate we were told by the uncle of the little Duke that the road is to be improved and a line of motor-buses put in from the station to the town. The picture of the Confucian clan running motor-transportation to the home of their great ancestor seems a bit startling at first, but there isn't any real reason why they shouldn't do it. Confucius, who was an eminently practical man, would probably have started a line himself if motor-buses had been thriving in his generation.

WOES OF TOURISTS

If the family does carry out its rubber-tired plan, the first to arise and call it blessed will be that line of weary tourists who are now obliged to do their sight-seeing in a two-wheeled cocktail shaker known as a Peking cart. Compared to the average cart, a baby tank going over partly demolished trenches rides as easily as a seat in the parlor-car of the Congressional Limited. We discovered by careful arithmetic that half a dozen sofa-pillows are equal to one spring; but that it would take at least half a hundred to equal one rubber tire. Speedometers to register miles are quite unnecessary on Peking carts, because after a little practice you can always tell how far you have gone by the number of bruises you have. The blue-clad mafoo makes for every gully with unfailing cheerfulness and the sweetest music to his ears seems to be the crack of his passenger's elbows and spinal column.

We took the first lap of the journey from Taianfu in a local train heavily embroidered in soldiers. They were eating large radishes, candied haws on sticks, concoctions of fried batter, steamed bread that looked like lumps of modelling clay, and many nameless things that were liberally endowed with seeds. If a Chinese soldier can't hit an enemy with a bullet any more accurately than he can an open window with a superfluous seed, the safest

SHANGHAI NAVY FOR WU, ARMY SIDES WITH CHANG

Local Fleet Will Sail To Aid Of Chihli Faction

SITUATION MIXED

With Warships To Aid Him, Wu's Victory Assured

Political factors in Shanghai grew shifty yesterday when both the navy and the army showed indications of taking sides—and different sides—in the warlike dissention in the North. Though up to yesterday the Navy had declared itself to be neutral seemingly it has cast its lot with Wu Pei-fu, while the Army, as a result of the protest of Tuchun Lu Yung-hsiang of Chekiang against the action of General Chi of Kiangsu in siding with Wu, must now assume an anti-Chihli attitude.

The navy stationed in Shanghai waters, consisting of the cruisers, Hai Shou and Hai Yung and the gunboats Tsing An and Chu Yue, has been ordered to steam within three days for Chinwangtao and Taku for duty, according to an authoritive report, following negotiations with a former Minister of Navy. The battleships have been paid one month's pay on account of the mission. They are four months in arrears.

NAVY PRO-CHIHLI

The pro-Chihli inclination of the former Minister of the Navy is well-known and the fact that the war vessels have been ordered to Chinwangtao and Taku strengthens the belief that the navy has turned anti-Fengtien. It will be remembered that in a report carried exclusively in THE CHINA PRESS, late Sunday morning under Loyang date, it was asserted that the navy would proceed to Chinwangtao and strike at the Mukden forces from the rear.

Though the navy is but a decorative institute in China in time of peace and an obsolete weapon in time of international warfare, it is sufficient to sway the decision in China's internal strife, according to military experts. Especially are they powerful in this present conflict because of their aquatic utility.

It has been pointed out that without the navy, General Wu Pei-fu can never entirely conquer the Mukden army. Withdraw beyond the strategic entrance of Shanhaikan and the Fengtien forces will be as safe as a lion in his own den, because no army, no matter how formidable it is, can penetrate this strategic gate and fight its foe beyond.

WOULD HELP WU

But with the assistance of the Navy, Wu could strike at the

WU HURRIES TO PAOTING TO INTERCEPT CHANG'S MEN

First Firing Takes Place 16 Miles To East

FENG IS BITTER

Shensi Tuchun Denounces Fengtien "Bandit"

BY JOSEF W. HALL
Staff Correspondent the China Press

Loyang, April 26.—General Wu Pei-fu's declaration of war, in which he bitterly scores Chang Tso-lin as a "bandit invader," contained a manifesto addressed particularly to the foreign legations, and to the Tuchuns of Kiangsi, Kiangsu, Hupeh, Shantung, Honan and Shensi, in which he warns of the consequences of giving aid to Chang.

There was a small clash this morning between Chihli scouts and the advance guard of Fengtien troops that are now driving toward Paotingfu. The skirmish took place some 16 miles east of Paotingfu, and as a result General Wu left immediately for that city, without awaiting the arrival in Loyang of Tuchun Feng Yu-hsiang and his men from Shensi.

Feng, the "Christian General," issued a manifesto immediately upon his arrival in Loyang, in which he says:

"Chang Tso-lin comes to ruin the Republic and disrupt the law of the land. His robber's heart never has changed, for which reason Peking has been deprived of governmental power and involved in endless civil strife. He is the proponent of oppression and the criminal head of the monarchial restoration scheme. All these things he has advocated and helped, and now he brings his brigand troops within the wall to disturb the capital and the country. He has broken the treaty which he signed at Tientsin and is now driving toward Paotingfu with his uniformed robbers.

CHANG TO BLAME

"Chang is clearly responsible for the recent plundering of the coasts of Shantung, and it was he who lopped off the head of the principle of demobilisation so much emphasised at Washington.

"General Wu Pei-fu and those associated with him are thus compelled to take active measures for the protection of lives and property. Fighting will be quickly terminated, following which there will be a happy and speedy reconstruction period. We hope we will be able to reward the hopes of friends of every nationality who hope to see China united and peaceful.

"We ask every foreign friend to strictly observe treaty stipulations, and not to aid the bandits by furnishing supplies, even though such deals offer profitable returns. We know that certain foreigners in Manchuria are prone to intervene, and it is to be hoped that this warning will make plain to them that such action must be withheld. On the other hand, if this warning is strictly observed we shall be deeply grateful."

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, April 26.—The President issued a mandate this afternoon, pointing out that it was the duty of the Army to maintain peace and order. Generals Chang Tso-lin, Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-fu have been very loyal to the Government and have rendered most meritorious services in this respect, the mandate declares, but there appears to be a likelihood of a clash between the Chihli and Fengtien parties. President Hsu Shih-chang feels that, owing to the diplomatic questions involved and the danger of serious internal disturbances, the intervention of the Central Government is imperative. Therefore, he calls upon both sides to withdraw their troops to their original positions as soon as possible, in order that the situation may peacefully be discussed and an agreement reached if possible.

HSU URGED TO ACT

This mandate reflects the views of the mediators, who yesterday interviewed the President and urged him to issue the mandate, but it is stated reliably, though unofficially, that the mediators also propose that General Wu Pei-fu should give up the post of Vice-Inspector-General of Chihli, Honan and Shantung and confine himself to the duties of the Inspector-General of Liang-Hu (Hunan and Hupeh) and remain in the Yangtsze Provinces, General Chao Ti becoming Vice-Inspector-General of Chihli, Honan and Shantung. This would virtually place General Chang Tso-lin in absolute control of all the Provinces north of the Yangtsze. It is not believed that Generals Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-fu would consider such a proposal, which, if made, would probably bring the present lull to an abrupt termination.

Meanwhile, the Fengtien and Chihli troops are within a few miles of each other at Changsintien and Fangshan, while various flanking movements are progressing, which may result in a clash at any moment and precipitate a general engagement. Although reports of fighting are being received daily, up to the present there has been no fighting in the vicinity of Peking.

(Staff Wire to THE CHINA PRESS*)*

Chengchow, Honan, April 26.—No order of attack has yet been issued by General Wu Pei-fu. Sun Lieh-chen, commander of the Fengtien Army south of the Great Wall, left Tientsin for Mukden yesterday after reviewing the troops along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway. Sun has circulated a telegram supporting the unification scheme suggested by General Chang Tso-lin.

FENG READY

Tuchun Feng Yu-hsiang of Shensi and other Shensi militarists have telegraphed to General Wu Pei-fu to say that they are ready to fight the "militaristic monarchists." War seems to be inevitable but President Hsu Shih-chang will issue another presidential mandate, appealing to the militarists to withdraw their troops to their original posts.

Notes On The Situation

Dr. C. T. Wang, Director on Shantung Retrocession, yesterday circularised the provinces with a telegram, appealing to the militarists to leave Shantung alone in case of an armed conflict. Because, he said, in case arms are resorted to in his province, it would give Japan an excuse to delay the handing over of the railway and other properties as provided for by the Washington Conference.

Chang Tso-lin has intimated he would withdraw his troops beyond the Great Wall, if Wu Pei-fu will relinquish his base in Chihli and Honan and return to Hupeh. Wu Pei-fu, on the other hand, refuses to discuss any terms at all unless Chang withdraws from all points this side of Shanhaikwan and abolishes all his military headquarters in Peking, Tientsin and other places.

The mediators see very little hope of a compromise. They are contemplating their own withdrawal from the political stage.

The condition of Hsu Shih-chang, "the Great President" is described as pitiful. He joined in the rhetorical fight Tuesday by asking all three military chieftains, Tsao Kun, Chang Tso-lin and Wu Pei-fu, to stop their squabble. He resented that in all the military movements round his capital, he, as the Generalissimo of the Army and the Navy, was not consulted.

The South remains inactive Very little has been done for the anti-Northern military expedition. This has been one of the greatest disappointments to Chang Tso-lin, who was promised support in his combat against Wu by the South through Liang Shih-yi, the premier, whom Chang placed in office.

Chow Tze-chi, the Acting Premier, is still in Tientsin, refusing to respond to the request of Hsu Shih-chang to return.

Vice-Minister of War Ho En-pu has returned to Peking from Loyang. He announces that Wu Pei-fu is determined to match his strength with Chang Tso-lin at once and that no mediation can avert the conflict.

JUDGE LOBINGIER BELIEVED BACK IN WASHINGTON

Private Messages Say That He Is Not Passenger On Silver State

Judge C. S. Lobingier of the United States Court for China, who has been away from Shanghai since last August and who was expected on the Admiral Line steamer Silver State, arriving on May 4, is not aboard that steamer, according to well authenticated private messages that have been received here by way of Tokio. Messages cabled from here recently to Tokio asked that a query be sent from Japan by radio to the Captain of the Silver State and the reply to these seems to disclose that Judge Lobingier did not sail from Seattle.

On his arrival in the Puget Sound City about April 15 he was interviewed by newspaper men, but reports of the interview which were received here and published said that aside from announcing his intention to return to Shanghai on the Silver State Judge Lobingier was unwilling to say anything concerning his visit to Washington.

It is generally accepted among the legal fraternity of Shanghai that some eleventh-hour development in connection with the charges that were made against him with the State Department by Mr. William S. Fleming and which were heard at Washington, has caused Judge Lobingier to alter his plans and go back to the Capital.

back, here in China the exceptionally high birth rate is the chief drawback."

And then Mrs. Sanger, who is a little, motherly looking woman rather than the mannish belligerent one might believe (and has her 13-year old son with her on her world tour) described Birth Control as a gigantic, elevator of unlimited power, which is continually thinning out the ranks of prospective men and women and allowing people of the middle class to enter the higher class, and people of the lower classes to enter the middle class, thus raising the entire plane of civilisation.

Quiet, unassuming and far from looking like a woman who has set out single handed to overturn Nature and revise the entire birth standards of the world Mrs. Sanger nevertheless talks with such fundamental knowledge of her subject that she easily convinces her listener. To be safe, I might add, as far as China is concerned.

JAPAN GOVERNMENT AIDED

"I am extremely glad the government in Japan opposed my entering the country or speaking there," Mrs. Sanger said, "because by doing so they immediately made me the center of interest and attracted many more to hear me than I could have obtained from my limited resources and capabilities. I addressed 15 meetings in Japan by invitation, and one public meeting when I spoke on 'Population and War.' Among the 6,000 people I addressed—the number was limited because the meetings were private—were educators, editors, scientists and doctors, the very people I want to reach. Branches of the I have left behind a cornerstone that in the years to come will be extremely fruitful of results," Mrs. Sanger asserted.

I couldn't resist suggesting that her work could hardly be described as being fruitful.

"In Peking I addressed four meetings, at the National University, before the nurses at the Peking Union Medical College, a group of editors, professors and doctors, and a group of Japanese, she continued." "As a result, a branch of the league has been formed in Peking and in addition to the Shanghai branch I hope to establish one at Canton."

Former Chief Of Aero Department Gives Talk Here

General M. K. Ting, formerly director of the Aeronautical Department of Peking, spoke on the development of Chinese aeronautics last night at Martyrs' Memorial Hall. General Ting is here in connection with the famine relief work in Kiangsu and Chekiang, he being one of the inspectors of the International Famine Relief Committee.

and are not subject to the taxing power of the United States.

"IV. That taxes on said income as they are, or are to be, assessed and imposed upon the income from real or personal property as aforesaid; and also insofar as imposed upon the income from any business, trade, or profession, or upon wages for services carried on or performed by a Citizen of the United States who is carrying on his business, trade, or profession for profit, or performing services for wages, within the Republic of China, are taxes attempted to be imposed on real or personal property, or on a business, trade or profession, or on services performed outside the territorial area and jurisdiction of the United States of America; and such assessment and imposition of taxes on such income is beyond the power of the United States under the Constitution of the United States of America.

"V. That the United States of America is without power to assess, impose and collect any taxes on the income or property mentioned in said return; and that the Revenue Acts of 1913, 1916, 1917, 1918 and 1921 and the Rules and Regulations adopted thereunder are, so far as relates to taxation upon my income so derived as aforesaid, wholly unconstitutional and void.

"The undersigned respectfully states that he thus makes protest against the assessment and collection of income taxes based upon this return or otherwise in order to give notice that he intends to file his claim for refund of any such tax assessed or collected hereunder and if the refund is denied, that he intends to sue to recover any such tax.

"Signature....."

A memorandum of instructions sent out with the form of the protest is as follows:

"To those who expect or may want to contest and, perhaps sue for recovery of taxes, it would be well not to pay until the assessment has been made by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue: which may be delayed to suit the convenience of the Commissioner: and meanwhile the interest-penalty of ½ of one percent a month runs against the taxpayer, up to the time of payment. The waiting for an assessment merely avoids the possible contention by the Government that the payment was voluntary, unless assessed by the Commissioner before payment.

"Those who do not pay at the time of making their returns, but wait to be assessed should send a protest with their payment similar to the protest attached to their return.

"To those who are not contemplating suit, it will be sufficient to file the form of protest which will probably be adequate to save all rights.

"When taxes are paid, make a claim for refund on Form 46 (Revised 1921). These forms can be obtained from any collector. In making claim for refund, give the same reasons as the basis of your claim, as you gave in the protest attached to your return."

HOW TO "GROW" A NEW COMPLEXION

These are the days of "hustle." In a week we see and do more than our grandmothers did in a year. We are gradually turning nature to be our servant; we use her great forces against herself. We have conquered sea and sky, now our doctors are fighting not only disease, but old age. There is talk of rejuvenating human beings by the injection of animal glands, but as yet, only the few can avail themselves of the treatment.

There is, however, one secret of perpetual youth that is in the reach of everyone. Scientists now realise that the only way of keeping the skin young and fresh is to examine Nature's methods and to find some way of imitating her.

SCIENTIFIC BEAUTY.

In order to explain the new method of keeping the complexion perpetually youthful, one must understand something of the nature of the skin. A baby's skin is always clear and smooth because the outer layer is always invisibly peeling off, and new layers are forming just as fast underneath, so that the exposed skin is always fresh, unwrinkled and "new."

For the first few years of our lives, this peeling is a purely natural process, but as we grow older, we gradually lose the power of throwing off our old soiled outer skins, so that our complexions become lined and yellow, and the new skin has no chance to show itself.

A few years ago, a scientific chemist realised that a little-known substance called mercolised wax, was exactly what was needed to "keep nature up to the mark." It appears that this substance, which is now universally obtainable, gently and painlessly assists nature in throwing off the soiled outer cuticle. The skin is thus perpetually renewed, and a clear youthful complexion can be preserved to any age. (Advt.)

TUCHUN CHI RAPS CHENGTIEN; LOCAL COMBAT POSSIBLE

Allegiance Of Kiangsu Chief With Chihli Causes Restlessness Here

The announced affiliation of Li Shih-yuan, Tuchun of Kiangsu, with Wu Pei-fu, the Chihli Supertuchun, yesterday drew a vigorous protest from Lu Yung-hsiang, the Chekiang Tuchun, who up to yesterday had announced that he would remain neutral in case of a conflict in the North. The clash, verbal as it was, is interpreted by many as an overture for armed combat should the battle in the North materialize.

Tuchun Chi on Tuesday joined with Wu Pei-fu in a telegram which voices recrimination regarding Chang Tso-lin, the Mukden warlord. This message amounted to an ultimatum to the Chengtien clique and was signed by four other distinctly pro-Chihli Tuchuns, besides Wu and Chi.

In his protest, after re-iterating his desire to protect the life and property of the people under his jurisdiction, General Lu stated that the military authorities in Kiangsu had affiliated themselves with the Loyang faction, which affiliation would cause warfare in Kiangsu in case a combat takes place in the North.

"The peace and order of Kiangsu Province will hereafter be effected by this action," said in part, "because in endorsing the telegram (of Wu Pei-fu), Tuchun Chi has definitely demonstrated his partiality towards one of the warring cliques. I am afraid that peace, which we all hope for at this moment, will be disturbed. I wonder what you think of this action when you consider the welfare of the nation and the welfare of your native land.

"As the military head of Chekiang, I shall do everything in my power to keep our territory secure. But I am afraid that once Kiangsu is involved in the whirlpool, it would be difficult for Chekiang to be peaceful alone."

A delegation of local merchants, as a result of the interchange of telegrams, yesterday left for Nanking with a view to advising the Kiangsu Tuchun to withdraw his endorsement of Wu Pei-fu's telegram and to remain neutral in case of actual warfare in the North.

The Kiangsu Assembly is also despatching a lengthy telegram urging the province to be neutral in the internecine war.

A board of censors has been established at the local Chinese Telegraph Administration for the censoring of telegraphic despatches. The board was created by the military authorities of Shanghai.

MAY TAKE RUHR

Paris, April 26.—The occupation of the Ruhr is not mentioned in the semi-official statement bled earlier, which is a general gument that isolated French tion is in accordance with the reaty of Versailles.

The Petit Parisien today declares that M. Poincare does not tend that France should act one, because it believes that the od sense of the Allies, particularly Great Britain, will event the necessity of France forcing her strict rights. The per concludes that, instead of criminating, the British and rench should think more of idening their alliance than of aking new concessions to Russia and Germany.

Paris, April 26.—A Genoa spatch states that M. Chicherin s written to M. Skirmunk, the olish Foreign Minister, deanding that he should abstain om sitting on the Commission ealing with Russian affairs, beuse he supported the Allies' otest against the Russo-German reaty, and threatening the posbility of the cancelling of the usso-Polish Treaty, concluded Riga on April 1 between ussia and the Baltic States.

Genoa, April 26.—A statement, nerally regarded as a reply to M. oincare's speech, which was made today by Sir Edward Grigg on behalf of Mr. Lloyd George, says that if peace is not made with Russia or if the policy of leaving Germany and Russia out of account is followed, the inevitable result would be a fierce Russo-German friendship directed against the whole of West Europe.

"Britain will have nothing to do with such a policy. We are not afraid of the Russo-German menace but we are determined to do our utmost to prevent Europe again becoming a shambles."

The Russians are making a settlement most difficult, the statement concludes, but Sir Edward Grigg believes that the negotiations will succeed.

BANK UP POINCARE

(China Press Service)

London, April 25.—"Back up Poincare." Such is the message that has been received by the French Delegation at Genoa according to reliable information reaching here.

"Give Russia 48 hours to meet the views of France, or quit the Conference" is the peremptory order that the delegation is said to be preparing to cast as a bombshell into the next meeting of the No. 1 Committee which has for its avowed object the pouring of oil on the troubled waters of Russian and German difficulties.

This is taken in political circles to mean that France is obdurate and will concede nothing. This comes as a bitter disappointment to those who have pinned their hopes for a reunited Europe on this Genoa meeting.

Navy Is For Wu, Army For Chang

enemy from both sides and a complete routing is possible. Chang has foreseen this also. It was he who attempted to acquire the navy now patrolling round the Amur recently, but negotiations failed on account of the strenuous opposition of the rest of the navy. In the present affiliation with Chihli, the navy is apparently unanimous. Two gunboats now in Fukien waters are said to be also steaming towards the same objective as that of the Shanghai navy.

However, the big question mark today is how are the ships going to manage to pass the Woosung Forts on their way to Chinwangtao. If General Ho Feng-lin, the local Defense Commissioner, maintains a strictly neutral attitude as he reiterated to newspapermen Sunday at his Yamen, the sudden change of attitude among Chinese naval authorities may not effect Shanghai. On the other hand if he carries out General Lu's views on the situation to the letter, he must devise means of keeping the navy here within his control and a conflagration may be precipitated in his attempt.

A private telegram received in Shanghai from a reliable source states that Tien Chung-yu, Tuchun of Shantung, has been formally notified by the consul of a certain nationality that he (the consul) has received a telegram from his colleague at Dairen reporting that two divisions of Fengtien soldiers have arrived at Dairen by the South Manchuria Railway and are preparing for embarkation by ships to Shantung. It is pointed out that this move will lead to great complications in the Shantung situation.

Short Jail Terms For Two Japanese Arms Smugglers

Two Japanese were sentenced to 29 and 20 days' imprisonment respectively by the Japanese Consular Court Tuesday for smuggling arms into Shanghai. The men are T. Kamata, quartermaster of the steamer Mitor Maru, who drew the shorter sentence, and T. Asano, 1461 Yangtszepoo Road. They were charged as members of a gang engaged in smuggling on an extensive scale.

In giving judgment the Magistrate explained that he had imposed the maximum penalty possible. Four Chinese convicted of participation in the smuggling were sentenced to one year's imprisonment each by the Mixed Court last week.

place on the battlefield is in the middle of the opposing ranks.

The station of Chu'fu gives no indication of special interest. There is a tourist hotel, long ago finished but for some reason not yet opened, and a forlorn looking pailou leading to the entrance that reminds one of a Victory Arch a week after the parade. The visitor to the birthplace of Confucius climbs aboard a Peking cart, the mafoo gives his sturdy stood a prod that wakes it up, and the Shantung descendant of the cohippus sets out over a road that leads between green fields, across a river, and finally to the walls of the great burial place that covers the body of Confucius and his descendants for 2,500 years.

WIFE OF FORMER GERMAN MINISTER FINED FOR THEFT

Chinese Press Says Madame Von Kettler Was Convicted For Stealing

Madame von Kettler, the wife of the former German Minister to Peking, has been sentenced to a fine of 500,000 marks by a Hamburg Court for stealing an ancient oil painting, according to a telegram carried by the Chinese press.

Baron von Kettler was murdered during the Boxer Rebellion while he was on his way to the Peking Foreign Office at the Chung Wen Meng Street. After the rebellion, a monument was erected in his memory, which stood over the spot of the assassination for 18 years. After the world war, the monument was dismantled and its material today forms the Victory Memorial in the Central Park, Peking.

Unjust Charges In Mixed Court Are Frowned Upon

In a portion of the Mixed Court's report for April, published in the current Municipal Gazette it is set forth that the injustice that may be caused to accused persons by private prosecutions where warrants are sometimes obtained by counsel on the flimsiest evidence was clearly shown in a case of one Woo Yungsung charged with forgery.

The accused was first before Court on December 5, 1921 and was remanded for a Special Hearing. When the case was eventually tried on February 7, 1922, it was dismissed after the evidence for the prosecution had been given, the Court remarking that the counsel for the prosecution was open to criticism for bringing the charge on such slight evidence.

The lawyer concerned said he had acted in good faith. Counsel for the accused then asked the Court to award his client heavy damages, as he was sick, had been locked up for months and had suffered great hardship. The Court's finding in this case reads as follows:—

"Action dismissed. Counsel for the complainant reprimanded for bringing a criminal action without evidence. Complainant to pay the accused $100 damages within three days."

FOUR SENTENCED FOR DISTRIBUTING STRIKE PAMPHLET

Charged with inciting mill workers of the Ewo Cotton Mills to strike four coolies arrested several days ago while distributing handbills in the Yangtszepoo district were sentenced by the Mixed Court yesterday to one week's imprisonment, dating from the time of arrest.

The men were apparently from the striking staff of the China-Japan Cotton Mill in Pootung and Mr. L. K. Kentwell, representing them made a strong plea for leniency, declaring that the men were merely trying to ameliorate their living conditions and seeking to enlist sympathy and not to incite disorder.

A translation of the handbill which they were passing out is as follows:

"Fellow workers: The price of rice was about $4 or $5 per picul 4 or 5 years ago. Now it has risen to about $12 or $13. The price of vegetables was a little over ten cash per catty and now it has risen to about 100 cash per catty. There have been proportionate increases in rentals, cost of clothing, etc. Prices are in fact more than double and in some instances several times more than the old quotations.

"But our wages have not been increased in proportion. We have to support our parents and our children and we husbands and wives have been already suffering from starvation. Now we have appealed to the manager for an increase of 20 percent in our wages in the hope that our livelihood may be maintained and that we may work wholeheartedly for the company. But our repeated appeals have been ignored. We cannot work with empty stomachs and we cannot find a living elsewhere. We cannot wait upon machinery and we therefore have to bid farewell to the company.

"Dear brothers and sisters: We are working with empty stomachs and the management knows that we are working with empty stomachs. But it does not care. Such a heartless management deserves your attention. We hope that the papers and editors will give us their support by justly commending. We also hope that the workers of other mills and workers in other lines will take concerted action.

"Declaration: We hereby declare that unless the Chi Wha Cotton Mill accepts our demands we will not work for it."

The symptoms are pallor, debility, breathlessness and palpitation of the heart. It is a disease which easily runs into a fatal form of anaemia unless it is corrected in time.

Chlorosis yields readily to proper treatment. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are recommended together with a proper diet and plenty of fresh air. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood. McKINNON INQUEST ADJOURNED UNTIL VESSEL RETURNS

The inquest into the circumstances surrounding the death of Mr. Alexander Gillespie McKinnon, chief officer of the steamer Chusan whose body was found in the Whangpoo April 19, after the officer had been missing for ten days, was continued yesterday by British Coroner G. W. King.

Testimony was given by Dr. N. H. Bolton, who performed the autopsy; by Mr. A. C. Dobbie of the Public Works Department, who saw deceased on the day he disappeared, and by Inspector T. Mellows, of the River Police.

Dr. Bolton stated that there were no marks of violence on the body and that in his opinion death was caused by drowning. Mr. Dobbie told of meeting Mr. McKinnon on a tramcar at the corner of Szechuen and Haining Roads on the afternoon of April 9 and of agreeing to call on him at tiffin the next day. It was previously supposed that the deceased was on his way to Mr. Dobbie's home when he disappeared but Inspector Reeves stated that this was merely a supposition on the part of the second officer. Mr. Dobbie was previously in the services of Butterfield & Swire and had known Mr. McKinnon for some time. He stated that the deceased could not swim.

Inspector Mellows testified with regard to the finding of the body, which was clothed in evening dress, with a light grey overcoat. There were no marks and everything pointed to drowning. In the pockets were found a silver cigarette case, a wrist watch which had stopped at 7:17 o'clock, $20 Mex. and $1.60 small money, ships keys and a topaz ring. Witness said he had made effort to learn something from the sampan men and watchmen but had not been able to secure anything. He was of opinion that deceased had fallen into the river on the Pootung side, probably from the gangway of the ship.

The inquest was adjourned until Friday morning when the Chusan will be in port.

TRAINS IN SMASH AT CHINKIANG; NO ONE INJURED

A serious collision occurred at the Chinkiang station of the Shanghai-Nanking Railway Saturday night when two goods trains crashed together. No one was hurt.

One of the trains was shunting on a siding near the station when the other pulled in, the driver disregarding the signal against proceeding. Both engines were badly damaged and a considerable quantity of freight was also damaged. The engines were brought to Shanghai yesterday morning and were sent to the Woosung shops for repairs.

Mr. Wayne, Traffic Manager of the railway, stated yesterday that an enquiry into the smash-up showed that it was due to the carelessness of the driver of the Shanghai-bound train which pulled into the station while the other train was switching.

American School Loses Opening Game To Shanghai

Practice Contest Results 15-5; Hagar Stars For School

The baseball squad of the American School took their first serious workout of the season yesterday afternoon when they went through a seven inning game with the Shanghai Baseball Club. The youngsters showed a team of fine possibilities, lacking only in coaching and training. They played the older men well, but they lost by a score of 15-5.

One of the features of the game was the pitching of Hagar, a fifteen year old boy, with a snappy delivery full of speed, control and hooks. He faced men of twice his years and three times his size and he fanned them—some of Shanghai's best. He also batted for a thousand percent, with three healthy singles in as many times at bat. The boy will develop into a star twirler with coaching.

Hagar's performances however were not the only signs of class in the School team. Nearly every other boy on the team showed good possibilities. There were moments of grammar school baseball and a marked absence of free batting and then there were times when the schoolboys held the more experienced opponents by really clever playing.

Wiens at third was good and Chase at short, though he had few chances showed considerable style. Squires behind the bat proved a good backstop, and a heavy hitter. His single in the third and his triple in the seventh accounted for two of his team's runs.

Church had some difficulty in controlling his southpaw speed ball in the two innings he pitched, and Maloney who followed him was not much better. Scott fared well in spite of the fact that he merely lobbed them over in the last inning. The whole game for Shanghai was a workout. McCarthy, a new catcher handled himself well though seven schoolboys stole on his arm. A little further workout and Mac will get back into his former stride.

Shanghai played eighteen men in the game. Of the new men Woods perhaps stood out as the best. He rapped out one triple in two times at bat, and handled ten chances without an error. White on his first time out donated another triple, and showed well at second and third. Swinehart in his first game batted .500 percent and cared for the middle station nicely while he worked. Other honors were even.

The two teams play again this evening at 5 o'clock on the Baseball Club field.

The score follows:

A Farmer Cured of Rheumatism.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and told him to use it freely" says C. P. Rayder, Patten Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment; I want it in the house all the time for it cured me."

SOCCER CRAZE HITS JAPAN SAYS LONDON PRESS

(From the London Daily News)

The craze for soccer football has spread to Japan, as will be seen from the following interesting letter which has just reached the "Chief Editor about Football Games of the 'Daily News'":

20, Nakasarugaku-machi,
Kanda, Tokio, Japan.
10-12-1921.

Dear Sir,—I am very thankful if you send me many precious photographs about Association football games and trainings in your country.

I myself have a great eager to develop the football game in Japan. But we have a little knowledge about it. I am studying from books and my friends—Englishmen in Tokio and Yokohama—about the play.

Mr. F. J. Wall, the Secretary of the F. A., make me known about the rules and laws of the game. I am heartily thankful to all these kind English friends.

I believe the photographs of your "Daily News" is the most interesting among the many publications. I want to develop our play by these actual play in England by the help of the chief editor of football games of the "Daily News."

Please tell me the price of it, then I will buy the international money order.

Please accept the troublesome request from a football enthusiast of Japan.

Yours very truly,
SUMIOLU NITTA.

Requests for guidance on points of soccer football law from various countries in Europe have become too common to cause more than passing interest in England. For many years now skilled professionals from England and Scotland have coached Continental teams to such good purpose that they can now hold their own in opposition to the pick of our amateur talent, and the passion for the game is almost as great in every country in Europe as in Britain.

It is something new and surprising, however, to hear that there is a desire to develop the soccer game in Japan.

If the Japanese show the same thoroughness in football as in lawn tennis and wrestling there should soon be a new field of activity for the British football coach.

Z. Shimidzu and I. Kumagae, the lawn tennis representatives of Japan, impressed everyone by their skill at Wimbledon, and the music-hall stage has introduced numerous Ju Jitsu wrestlers to England.

The fascination of soccer is remarkable, and it is rapidly becoming a world-wide game. The most extraordinary display I ever took part in, writes a Daily News representative, was against a gang of Chinese (the Chinese Labor Corps) outside Boulogne shortly after the Armistice. The Chinese joined issue with a team of the Royal Irish Regiment, and although the laws were not strictly adhered to, some of them showed surprising skill.

Peking Men Go Through Good Trial Game To Get Line On Candidates

(Special To The China Press)

Peking, April 19.—In a baseball game played here yesterday between the Headquarters Company and the 39th company of the Legation Guard Marines the former won out by a score of 4-3. Bailey worked for the H. Q. Co. and allowed but three hits, at the same time fanning eleven men. The Headquarters men hit Zenman safely eight times, but suffered eight strikeouts on his offerings.

The game was followed by a big crowd of local enthusiasts. It was intended primarily as a first-of-the-season trial of candidates for the 1922 Marine nine. The box score which includes many names well known to Shanghai baseball fans follows:

ARABIAN NIGHTISH SORT OF HOLD-UP IS THE FOLLOWING

A glittering tale of daylight highway robbery conducted in the Arabian Nights method, with modern touches, was related to the police yesterday by a Chinese employed at the likin station on Soochow Creek near Brenan Road.

The employe was despatched from the station to Shanghai to deposit at headquarters $200 in silver and $300 in bank notes. He engaged a ricsha to make the trip and all went merrily, so his tale goes, until the coolie reached the corner of Yu Yuen and Tifeng Roads, where adventure with a large A had parked itself in the shape of a big black motor car. This was about 10 a.m.

The car, according to the likin station employe's report, was occupied by several genteel-appearing persons who bade him good day after signaling his ricsha puller to halt. They invited him to step into the awaiting car and be transported whither he pleased. One of these obliging strangers drew forth money and paid the ricsha coolie. Somewhat in a daze, the messenger stepped into the machine. Whereupon the pilot of the same, instead of steering it toward town, made a speedy run out Siccawei Road to a point on the Siccawei Road near Fuh Tan University. The car was then halted and the messenger was invited to get out and deliver over the monies in his possession.

The looted likin emissary said that the reason for the lateness of his report to the police was that he had to walk a good many miles back to get in touch with the authorities.

THERE IS usually one of two results—a divorce within a year, or a life of bitter quarrels, suspicion and disillusion, for the love of money and the love of admiration are poor foundations on which to build even a "Modern" marriage.
"The Furnace" is the story of such a marriage, and the "Furnace" was the hell fire which the souls of these envied and yet unhappy people were compelled to pass before the dross of convention, jealousy and misunderstanding had been burned away.

Respiratory Diseases Prevalent Through March

Warning Against Mosquitoes Given By Health Department In Its Report

Diseases of the respiratory group —diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and small pox—were the diseases most prevalent in the International Settlement through March, according to the Health Department report for the month which appears in the current issue of the Municipal Gazette. The death rate, the report says, still remains higher than normal.

The number of cases of small pox continues to drop. No deaths occurred among foreigners in the month and 16 among Chinese compared with 1 and 56 for the preceding month.

Scarlet fever was increasingly prevalent and the warning is given that special care should be taken to guard against this desease from which one case developed in the foreign community and seven deaths occurred among the Chinese in the week ending April 23.

The report points out that the most dangerous cases of scarlet fever are those that are so mild as to go unrecognised, as by these infection is scattered broadcast.

The number of diphtheria cases has shown a marked increase in recent weeks. According to the report for the week ending April 23 five cases of the disease were reported among foreigners in the period while one Chinese died from the disease.

The monthly report records a single case of anthrax in the case of a Chinese worker in a hide godown in the eastern district.

Timely notice is given in the report that the season is at hand when measures for the reduction and prevention of mosquitoes are necessary. The report continues that "a malaria bea ring mosquito —Anopheles sinensis—is found in Shanghai and malaria of the benign tertian type certainly may be contracted here."

Householders are urged to make special efforts themselves, in and around their houses and gardens, to do away with all receptacles of stagnant water where mosquitoes breed, such as ponds, water-plants, drains out of repair, abandoned tubs, pots, tins, broken bottles, holes in stumps and forks of trees, hollows in bamboos, etc., and to co-operate with the Health Inspectors in their campaign against mosquitoes.

Under the heading of 'Mosquito Notice' the Health Department says:

Mosquitoes carry malaria and other diseases.

Mosquitoes cannot multiply except in stagnant water. Where stagnant water cannot be abolished kerosine sprinkled on the surface to form a film will kill mosquito 'wrigglers,' as it prevents breathing when they come to the surface.

Old tins and bottles, broken crockery and unconsidered articles of this kind capable of holding rain water should be carefully collected from the garden and backyard and placed with the refuse for removal.

Tubs, kongs, water plants, flowerpot saucers or other vessels of water, which cannot be dispensed with should be emptied or sprinkled with kerosine once a week.

Gardners' kongs, dug-outs, wells and water barrels should be done away with, water for the garden, etc., being derived directly from the tap or, if that be impossible, the kongs, etc., should be oiled once a week or kept securely covered so that mosquitoes cannot get to the water to lay their eggs.

Have the water from kennels, chicken coops, etc., regularly emptied out.

Egypt Will Try To Halt Cotton Prices

(Reuter's Service)

Cairo, April 24.—As an extraordinary measure the Government is entering the cotton market in order to check the continued fall in prices.

Shipping Board Will Slash Rates

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, April 25.—Owing to the Lamport & Holt Line reducing its passenger rates to South American ports, the shipping Board announces that the Munson Line rates will be reduced to $295 to Rio de Janeiro, $345 to Montevideo, and $360 to Buenos Aires, as compared with the Lamport & Holt's rates of $315, $360 and $370 respectively.

The chairman of the Shipping Board, Mr. Lasker, said: "Our hat is in the ring and we will stick as long as is necessary in order to assure American dominion over the passenger traffic on all the oceans."

New York, April 26.—Messrs. Lamport and Holt, Limited, have telegraphed to Mr. Lasker, the chairman of the United States Shipping Board, denying that they have the intention of starting a rate war against the Shipping Board's vessels on the South American run and explaining that the cuts in passenger rates were made owing to the fact that they are using slow steamers whose speed is considerably below that of the Board's vessels.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

April 26, 1922

Spot bar silver was down ¼d. and forward ⅛d. in London yesterday.

The New York price declined to 68 cents, and the London-New York cross rate to 442¾.

The official rates here today were unchanged from yesterday, and the market, while easier than yesterday was, on the whole, steady.

There were, throughout most of the morning, sellers of Sterling at 3-5 for April and 3-4⅞ for May-June.

There were sellers of Gold Dollars at 75⅝ for April, 75⅝ for May and 75½ for June.

Rates eased off, however, slightly at the close, when there were buyers rather than sellers at the above rates.

China and America sold silver in London yesterday, and the market there, as well as in New York, is reported as steady.

Cotton Spinners Accept Wage Cuts

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 25.—The wages question in the cotton trade has been settled at a conference of the employers and employed at Manchester.

The spinners and weavers have accepted the terms conceded to the cardroom workers and wages will be reduced immediately by three shillings and three pence in the pound and by another ten pence in six months time.

Bandits Now Send For Remittances

(China Press Correspondence)

Weihsien, Shantung, April 22.—The Chinese Telegraph Office here would not accept messages for Tsingtao this morning saying that the lines were broken or cut between here and Tsingtao. We were unable to get further information as to who had cut the lines or whether the break was due to the storm.

Two men who returned from extensive trips in the country today reported that the brigands in Kaomi, Anchiu, and Chucheng counties were no longer taking the trouble to kidnap people and hold them for ransom. They simply post a notice that a certain amount of money is required and it is usually forthcoming. In these counties there is very little highway robbery now as it is considered too small business.

The uneasiness of the people of the city and neighborhood regarding the expected trouble has continued today though the rain which has continued most of the day has kept the people off the streets somewhat.

Mediation

THE conditions which have prompted Wang Shih-chen to undertake mediation between the Chihli and Fengtien chieftains at that time in contrast with his previous repeated refusals to undertake this role, are said to be the dawn of realisation by both rival factions of what persistence in their present policies must lead to.

The intrigue, jealousy and general mix-up of orders among Chang Tso-lin's hordes are said to have gone a good way towards convincing that doughty politician that his troops could not sustain ten days fighting, and that the almost inevitable result of a field campaign against Wu Pei-fu would be disorganisation which would sweep him off his throne.

Wu Pei-fu, on the other hand, while confident of victory, is financially destitute, and is literally in a position where, to say nothing of the possibility of a long and costly field campaign, he cannot afford victory. He well remembers the precarious position in which he was placed following his victory at Hankow in August of last year when the expenses of reconstruction and the bonuses demanded by his soldiers as a reward for their part in the victory, nearly brought about his ruin. Of course there is little chance of his capturing Chang's treasury in Mukden, even in event of victory.

Therefore while Chang has the money, and no dependable fighting force, and Wu Pei-fu has the fighting force, but no money, and both leaders are rueing their predicament, the mediators are making their last effort. The plan of mediation seems to involve the summoning of the parliament which Li Yuan-hung prorogued and the probable election of Wang Shih-chen as President.

While the mediators are doing their best to convince Chang that mediation along this line is his only hope of saving his own position as well as the peace of the country, and is well worth purchasing even at the apparent loss of face which it would cost, the reactionaries of every stripe who are gathering in Peking and Mukden are telling the super-Tuchun that, having gone thus far, he must spring a coup—and that soon—or his prestige will be gone past all recovery. The latest addition to the ranks of this class is Yuan Shih-kai's most active son, who arrived in Peking with considerable eclat, and his two wives last week.

Therefore whether we are to have war or peace seems literally to rest upon a turn in the mind of Chang Tso-lin. There is reason to believe that he has a growing feeling that he has been led by the Anfu and Chang Hsun trouble-makers into a blind alley. This feeling might drive him to some rash act or again it might induce in him a calm reconsideration of matters.

Most of the Anfu leaders are now in Shantung where, through the agency of Ma Liang they are collecting brigands, probably with the intention of precipitating the conflict lest they find themselves left high and dry. It is likely that disturbances of a serious nature in Shantung cannot be obviated, and that these will play a large part in delaying the retrocession of Tsingtau by the Japanese; there is however much hope that if mediation succeeds, disorder can be limited to this one province.

Since the Peking-Hankow Railway Administration has in actuality gone to Paotingfu, the Fengtien crowd have taken over the little loose end of the railway lying north of Wu Pei-fu's trenches at Liuliho. Chang Ching-hwei has posted notices in the Kinhan station in Peking containing directions to railway officials and which are ludicrously enough stamped with the seal of the "Vice-Commander in Chief of the Mongolian Expedition," and "Vice-Director General of the Mongolian frontier" in both Chinese and Mongolian writing. When the Mongolian expedition has got as far as the Kinhan railway station in Peking surely it is time for the Mongols to become alarmed!

Limited Skepticism

BY S. E. KISER

There are no mermaids in the sea;
I found that out long, long ago;
Where all is false, truth cannot be;
My reason tells me this is so;
I know our planet isn't flat,
I know that where the rainbow ends
There is no pot of gold; all that
Is clear to me; I have it pat;
But still I can't draw dividends.

I know there is no Santa Claus;
I know the stork is not to blame
When twins arrive, and I have cause
To doubt some things the preachers claim;
In fact, I ceased, long since, to fear
A Satan, horned and clanking chains;
You see, my vision's pretty clear,
But still, somehow, I don't appear
To gather in financial gains.

I don't believe in silly signs;
I have no fear of spooks at night;
I know that when the full moon shines
It's merely by reflected light.
My teachers used to think that I
Was far from being dull or dense,
But, if I sell or if I buy,
I always lose; I don't know why,
Unless it is my lack of sense.

I've tried in many varied ways
To get financially ahead;
But nothing I invest in pays,
I still must earn my daily bread!
I don't believe in Santa Claus,
There are no mermaids in the sea,
But every little while I pause
To let some smooth promoter cause
Assessments to be handed me.

Preventative Medicine.

The tendency of medical science is toward preventative measures. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. Pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, often follows a cold or attack of the grip. The cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the pneumonia germ. The longer the cold hangs on, the greater the danger. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the first indication of a cold appears so as to get rid of it with the least possible delay. It is folly to risk an attack of pneumonia when this remedy may be obtained for a trifle.

Fleas, Dogs And Men

BY DR. CHARLES FLEISCHER

They say that human nature is the same the world over.

That is equally true—and untrue—of the rest of animated nature.

For instance, she puts all her progeny through the same paces, from birth to death—with sufficient propagation to keep alive each species.

And, then, we all share her voracious Appetite. Hunger and its unsatisfiable satisfying is the supreme interest of all that lives. Even the sex-craving is only a phase of the universal Appetite.

That driving hunger makes us cannibalistic and otherwise mutually devouring. We swallow our own kind and other kinds—if necessary to our own existence and the perpetuation of our type.

The dog-eat-dog habit is not confined to the canine species. The exploiter is the easily recognisable representative of that process in the human species. He lives by swallowing others—and it is not always a method of benevolent assimilation!

Taking of dogs, you will recall the bit of doggerel: big fleas have little fleas upon their backs to bite 'em, while little fleas have lesser ones, and so ad infinitum.

It is an endless chain. Fleas, dogs and men are certainly herein related, that they all live on one another—parasites all!

Nor is it a case of live and let live, but one of kill and eat, so that the killer may live.

The law of ruthlessness appears to be at the heartless heart of Nature.

In camp, last Summer, we had the habit of letting our electric light burn, because it attracted varieties of exquisitely delicate and beautiful moths. We were careful not to hurt the dainty little creatures which catered to our aesthetic appetites.

Not so the lovely birds. We had admired their songs, and they in turn enjoyed the pretty moths after their own fashion, grabbing and grubbing them—and doubtless duty translating their beauty into still sweeter songs, to delight our music-hungry ears!

Always the urge of Appetite, in some form!

Whatever the theologian, metaphysician, or philosopher may knowingly say regarding ultimate meanings, Mother Nature herself appears to play no favorites.

She loves us all equally—little!

Fleas, dogs and men would seem to have the same value to her.

Let dog eat dog, for aught she cares, and little fleas pester the pestering bigger one; and exploiting, bullying men fairly devour the weaker ones. So only the fittest, under given conditions, still survive!

Be sure, whenever you meet any one invoking the doctrine of the survival of the fittest, to justify the vaulting ambition or the vaunting domination of any person, group, nation, or even religion, that then you are face to face with survival—not of fitness, but of beastliness, in such less than human beings!

Gradually, we shall learn to root (perhaps we should say: to educate) such sheer animality out of human nature.

Indeed, that is precisely what we mean by Civilisation—the humanising of our particular species in universal nature.

Toward that end, human ideals and visions, and especially the self discovery of the Divine in our constitution—all that is summed in Religion (write large)—is playing the slowsure, potent part of transformation.

Even now, while only the capacities latent in man are being dimly discerned, and while the possibilities of human organisation (as means to the end of developing these capacities) are being merely experimented with—already we have learnd that the wisest, the kindest, and the best are the fittest to survive among men.

And we are going to strive increasingly, during the millions of years ahead of the human race, to make strength and intelligence and goodness and health and general fitness contagious.

If you wish really to know yourself, look up the scale of being, and not down.

If you seek the stimulus of self-respect, do not stress too much and too modestly your similarity to the simian and the dog.

But recognise and body forth your evident relationship to God.

The Cure For Crime Waves

THE SPECTATOR

Crime waves have always come with distressing periodicity. And of late the waves seem to have been getting worse.

A criminal is simply a pervert.

Civilisation is merely a long process of repression.

As man emerges from his animal state he developes higher forces within him, the effect of which is to inhibit his animal passions.

And it is by means of these inhibtions that he is able to have any social life.

So long as unrestrained lusts, his anger and his blood-thirstiness have no check he is a wandering savage and is unable to live any sort of social life, the very foundation of which is that voluntary restraint by which he becomes law-abiding.

This restraint is his moral nature and is developed by education and religion. Without it there can be no ordered community, no safe family life, and society flies apart by its anti-social and destructive forces.

Very often these compulsive manias persist among persons who are apparently civilised and well-behaved.

The strange aberration that induces certain men to cut off women's hair is perhaps a survival of the savage custom of scalping the victim.

One culprit of this kind who had collected a large number of plaits and tresses of hair that he had cut from the head of women on the street was a graduate of a university, a member of a respected family, and described by his friends as high-minded and gentle.

Other perverts are "dress-slashers," who find satisfaction in the act of cutting women's clothes with a knife and others have been known to throw paint or ink upon women's costumes.

A very dangerous specimen of pervert was "Jack the Ripper," the White Chapel murderer, who subjected his victims to fantastic and cruel mutilations and who was never brought to justice.

Besides these, there are the usual crimes of murder and violence.

A wave of these crimes seems to have swept across France, Great Britain, the United States and Germany since the war.

Perhaps the war had a good deal to do with it. For in war the primitive instincts have their full force. All life slumps into barbarism. Vengeance, strife, mistrust and hate are emphasised and even encouraged. In war men and women give free vent to the most animal-like tendencies.

The full danger of war cannot be measured in the number of lives destroyed and the amount of properity ruined. The deepest horror of war is the effect that it produces upon the human soul.

For the great damning fact of war is that victory seems to be secured entirely by material means. The lunatic doctrine of force has full swing.

This doctrine gets itself settled into the minds of the whole population and there arises, particularly in the thought of the young, a contempt for moral force and a worship of the big stick.

This, of course, carried to its logical conclusion, would mean the wiping out of civilisation which in its essence is nothing but the substitution of moral for physical compulsions.

The only way, therefore, effectually to stop crime waves is by the moral training of the young. It is not by armies and policemen that crime is repressed, but only by the supremacy of moral impulses among the people. If nobody among New York City's millions had any moral inhibitions, not all the armies in the world could keep the peace.

The only known means by which to develop moral character is religion. By religion we do not mean the propaganda of any sect, but that body of idealism which is the common property of all sects.

It is time religion in this sense was made more prominent in our educational processes, as a mere matter of self-preservation.

It is not difficult to find the greatest common divisor of all religions. Such, for instance, would be the teaching of truth, of honor, of cleanliness, of decency, of reverence, of obedience to law and the like.

It is vastly more important to the state that these things should be inculcated into the young mind than that it should be taught arithmetic and geography.

The only radical cure for crime is intelligent non-sectarian and universal moral training.

Properly Introduced

BY "BUGS" BAER

Public leads life of pancake. Always flat. Lots of people meet in world but right people never meet right people. Always wondered what would have happened if Ponzi met Jesse James, if Peggy Hopkins had met Landru and if one of our weather forecasters had met Baron Munchausen.

Suppose some municipal minded citizen had introduced W. J. Bryan to large majority, history of world would have been sidetracked in favor of Chautauqua weevils. Suppose Pershing had met Villa, famous frog had seen Tokio and Simple Simon met his whale?

If Alexander had been introduced to Kaiser would they have needed one two-handled saw or more worlds to sob over in lachrymose duet? If Cleopatra had been formally presented to Stillman, how many extra houseboats would there have been built on Nile?

Nobody can figure what effect that would have had on imaginative historians. Maybe it is just as well that you don't meet too many folks. Whole U. S. clamored for Jeffries to meet Johnson, and after Jeffries met him, we all called Jim one big bum for doing it.

Big question while ago, if world came to end tomorrow, what five friends would you save?

Better question is, what five friends would save you?

If you know five who would then you have been introduced to enough people and you don't have to meet any more.

Historic Romance Of The Constellations

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
(Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest)

"How many constellations are there known, not the twelve signs of the zodiac, but constellations, as Orion, Draco, Perseus or the Dippers? Why did the people of the olden time pick just these twelve constellations?—D. L. G."

As many as eighty-nine constellations are listed, but these are not all ancient. They include the twelve zodiacal constellations that like the "signs," with which they once corresponded, are very old, together with 28 northern and 49 southern constellations, lying on one side or the other of the zodiacal belt. One of these (Ophiuchus and Serpentarius) is double.

Forty eight of these constellations were catalogued by Ptolemy 200 years after Christ, but he is believed to have copied them from a list made by Hipparchus, the Greek astronomer, some three centuries earlier, and Hipparchus, in turn, certainly derived many, if not all, from authorities long antecedent to his times.

There is indirect evidence from early Greek literature that at least as long ago as the sixth century before Christ the principal constellations that we recognise were already known, and cuneiform tablets and cylinders indicate that as much as 3,000 years before Christ the names of certain of the stars and constellations, with legends about them, were already familiar.

The Greeks seem to have derived their knowledge from the ancient inhabitants of the valley of the Euphrates, but it is not possible for us to go back to the absolute origin of uranography ("geography of the heavens"). Moreover, similar systems to that which the Greeks have handed down to us grew up elsewhere in almost prehistoric times.

The Chinese early had catalogues of asterisms under the name of "sieu," or houses, and the Hindus divided the path of the moon through the sky into twenty-seven "nakshatras," which were virtually zodiacal constellations. Ancient Egypt, too, comes in with a claim to having originated the constellations of the zodiac 13,000 years ago."

It is only by much stretching of resemblances that the Egyptian constellations, as illustrated on the "zodiac of Denderah," can be made to correspond with those that have come down through the Greeks.

No doubt fancied likenesses of form caused the first naming of conspicuous constellations, like Orion and the Great Bear, and to these were attached names and legends that already have a place in the popular memory. The constellations (star groups) did not suggest the legends, but the legends were applied to the constellations after the resemblances of the latter to human or animal or other familiar forms had been noted.

In a few cases, for example, Coma Berenices ("Queen Berenice's Hair"), the striking similitude of the constellation together with a happy conjuncture of circumstances, led to the invention of a legend to suit. The origin of the name of a constellation like the Southern Cross needs no explanation. The constellations of the south polar sky were not named until after the maritime explorations of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.

With regard to the selection of the twelve zodiacal constellations and the reasons for their choice, not much is definitely known. It must have been noticed very early that the moon made twelve circuits of the sky to the sun's one. Every full moon appears about one-twelfth of the complete circle ahead of the place where it was a month before.

This led to the division into twelve equal parts, called signs, each 30 degrees in length. Naturally the star groups that happened to be situated in the successive signs were associated with them and served to give them names in accord with the fancied figures of animals or men which their stars suggested.

But the moon only dictated the division of the zodiac into twelve parts on account of her monthly motion, the important thing being the slower advance of the sun through the twelve signs. Its position among the signs was associated with the progress of the seasons. There was also a "lunar zodiac," which the Hindus, as we have already said, divided into twenty-seven parts, called nakshatras," each nakshatra corresponding to one day of the moon's sidereal month.

As far back as we can go we find that the first sign of the solar zodiac has always been Aries, the Ram, and it has been suggested that this name may have originated from the fact that, at the time the zodiac was invented, the opening of Spring, the season of the lambs, occurred when the sun entered that sign and constellation, i.e., at what we call the vernal equinox. But owing to precession, the place of the vernal equinox shifts westward about one degree every seventy-two years, so that in 2,160 years (since the time of Hipparchus) each of the signs of the zodiac has moved Westward its own length, and come into coincidence with the constellation formerly associated with its immediate predecessor in the circle.

Thus the sign Aries is now in the constellation Pisces, and the sign Taurus in the constellation Aries, etc. This would look as though the zodiac was invented in Hipparchus's day, but there is evidence of its existence long before, so that there may have been one or more adjustments of the signs to the constellations, or a rechoosing of constellations to fit the signs.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine be given to your children unless you or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments."
F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria's popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."
WM. J. MCCANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine."
N. B. SIZER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

IODISED THROAT TABLETS
Allay all irritation

THE General Public is hereby notified that supplies of "IXL" IODISED THROAT TABLETS, the remarkable new throat remedy that is now being so largely and successfully prescribed by physicians in Great Britain, are now being made available for residents in China.

Representing the latest advance in scientific throat medication these tablets, by reason of their Iodine content, are indubitably superior to any other pastilles or tablets that have yet been evolved by scientific research.

Their use is positively indicated in all cases of Sore and Ulcerated Throat, Hoarseness, Quinsy, Throat Catarrh, Tonsilitis, Laryngitis, etc.

As a highly efficient throat disinfectant when epidemics are rife, IODISED THROAT TABLETS indoubtedly excel any other preparation yet put upon the market.

No malignant Diptheria, Influenza, or other germ can find lodgement on a membranous surface that has been subjected to the peculiar antiseptic influences of these tablets.

Pleasant to the palate, and allaying all irritation, each tablet, as it slowly dissolves in the mouth, releases, in harmonious combination with other fine quality medicaments, a specific quantity of the pure Tincture of Iodine, to soothe, heal, and sterilize the inflamed area.

WARNING:—All cautions of the genuine and original IODISED THROAT TABLETS bear the "IXL" trade-mark, and each tablet is embossed with the letter "A." Reject feeble substitutes.

All first-class chemists supply "IXL" IODISED THROAT TABLETS.
